

Friday, July 18, 2009

Not every artist hopes to make it on Broadway, but sculptor Carole Eisner can now say she has. Nine of Eisner's abstract metal and steel works—spanning 20 years of her career—were unveiled this month on New York's Upper West Side from 62nd Street to 166th Street. The sculptures will be on view until December 8.

